Narberth Borough Has Light Primary Vote

Hoyle Defeats Goldsborough For School Post

Mrs. Robb, Ogden
And Narrigan
Also Nominated

Narberth's school board battle—only contest in Tuesday's Republican Primary—stirred no more than a lukewarm interest among the Borough's voters.

In the comparatively light voting, winners of nomination for election as school directors were:

Mrs. Ingeborg T. Robb with 577 votes; Clifford, Narrigan and Eugene H. Ogden with 707 each, and Ralph Hoyle with 807.

Mrs. Robb, Narrigan and Ogden will be candidates for six-year terms; Mrs. Margaret Briner, incumbent who sought re-election to a six-year term, polled only 427 votes.

Hoyle, running for the unexpired four-year term vacancy created by the resignation of J. L. McCreary, defeated his opponent, E. Lee Goldsborough. Goldsborough trailed the field with 326 votes.

The unopposed candidates for three Borough Council vacancies were led by William Davies, incumbent, who polled 821 votes. Robert Cameron, also an incumbent, received 818 votes, while Charles Nevins, a newcomer to the Council, received 809.

Elmer Hackman, unopposed candidate for Borough Auditor, received 813 votes.

The Democratic Party had no candidates for any Borough office.

Mrs. Gail Evans Dies of Gunshot

Narberth Woman, a
Suicide Is Coroner's Verdict

Mrs. Gail Evans, 42, of Narberth, who shot herself through the head with a .45 caliber revolver on August 26, died Sunday in Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Montgomery County Coroner Winslow J. Rushon issued a verdict of suicide and said no inquest will be held.

Captain William E. Shaffer, of Lower Merion detectives, said that on the night of August 26, Mrs. Evans and her husband, Charles M., 48, were drinking wine together. Both were despondent because Evans, formerly employed by the State Liquor Control Board, had been unemployed for 18 months.

He grew sleepy from the wine, Evans told police, and went to bed. He was roused by the sound of a shot, and rushed to the living room to find his wife slumped in a chair, with blood streaming from a head wound. Assisted by a neighbor, William Ovale, Evans called Dr. William Beamer.

Mrs. Evans was taken to the Bryn Mawr Hospital by the Narberth Volunteer Medical Service Corps ambulance, and remained there for nearly two weeks, without regaining consciousness.

Two sons, Donald, 22, and Charles, 18, Jr., 24, testified that their mother had been in ill health and appeared despondent for some time. She had mentioned suicide several times, they reported.

Mrs. Evans is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harry Miller, of Newport News, Va., where her husband is stationed at the Naval Base.

Dr. Frew Returns To Pulpit Sunday

Pastor Made Tour of Europe for Church

Dr. Allan MacLachlan Frew, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ardmore, will return this week from Europe, and expects to occupy his pulpit on Sunday, September 14. His sermon topic will be "Strugglers With God." The quartet, under the direction of Claribel Thomson, will present the ministry of music.

Dr. Frew has been traveling in European countries, meeting with church and national leaders to discuss spiritual rehabilitation and church reconstruction there.

For two years Dr. Frew has served as chairman of the Presbyterian Restoration Fund Commission of the Presbytery of Philadelphia. The group has as its goal a $27,000,000 fund, of which the largest quota has been assigned to Philadelphia—a total of $1,511,000. Of this sum $1,200,000 has already been realized.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Suit for divorce has been filed in the Prothonotary's Office, Norristown, by John E. Baltz, Jr., of Merion, against Elizabeth E. Baltz, charging indignities. They were married August 12, 1939.

Playhouse Opens Member Drive

Narberth Group Also Begins
Tryouts for 'Claudia,'
First Production

The Main Line Playhouse, formerly known as the Narberth Players, will open the coming season on October 30 and 31, with Rose Frank's 'Claudia,' a charming portrayal of young married life.

Both the tryouts for 'Claudia' and the players' first meeting, fall during the two-week membership drive, September 9 to 23, so all prospective members are asked to join as soon as possible.

The tryouts are to be held at 2 P. M. Sunday, at the home of the coaching and casting chairman, Mrs. John S. Carver, 110 Montgomery Ave., Cynwyd. The first meeting is scheduled for September 16, at 8:30 P. M., in the Narberth Public School auditorium.

All wishing to join should contact team captains of the membership committee. Led by co-chairmen Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, of Penn Valley, and Mrs. Ralph Giles, of Narberth, the team captains include:

Mrs. Philip Bentz, of Philadelphia; Matt Callahan, of Narberth; Mrs. Anne Crowe, of Bryn Mawr; Mrs. John S. Carver, of Cynwyd; Miss Anne McClellan, of Ardmore; Mrs. Q. A. B. Cornman, of Narberth; Miss Gordon Fernow, of Cynwyd; Mrs. Larry Grey, of Penn Valley.

Also Ray Twardowska, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Teter, Mrs. Ralph Giles, Katherine Trowbridge, Mrs. R. M. Paron, Miss Nancy Simpson and Miss Elizabeth Rogers, all of Narberth.

Other plays chosen for the 1947-48 season by the Play-Reading committee are:

Patterson Greene's 'Papa Is All,' Pennsylvania Dutch comedy, December 12 and 13; 'The Importance of Being Earnest,' by Oscar Wilde, January 30 and 31; 'Interference,' by Roland Pertwee and Dearden, March 19 and 20, and 'Joyous Season,' by Philip Barry, April 30 and May 1.

A post-season benefit performance of Shakespeare's 'The Taming of the Shrew,' will be staged in a local outdoor theatre, has also been planned.

Local Woman Is Member Of County Grand Jury

They include W. W. Radcliffe, of 182 Montgomery Ave., divisional manager, and D. L. Poe, of 129 Bentley Ave.

Fire Destroys Warehouse and Seven Boxcars

Firemen Delayed Full Hour in Search for Hose Connection

For the second time in a month, Main Line firemen fighting a stubborn blaze had to search nearly an hour for a hydrant with which to connect their hose.

Although flames were discovered in a long wooden warehouse belonging to the Pencoyd Iron Works in West Manayunk about 5 P. M. Thursday, firemen from the West Manayunk and the Union Fire Companies had to go back to Jefferson st. and Belmont Ave., Philadelphia, to find a plug and make a connection. Last month firemen attempting to save the Villanova home of John M. Taylor, were forced to travel two miles to find a hydrant.

Flames swept through the two-story wooden warehouse, and seven boxcars loaded with paper, an adjacent Reading Railroad track, caught fire.

Overheated by three hours of steady use the West Manayunk pumper caught fire and was itself burned out at 9 P. M. Firemen substituted the Cynwyd pumper and continued the six hour fight.

Although more than 200 other boxcars were close to the blaze, railroad workers managed to move the rest out of reach of the flames.

The cars that burned were consigned to the Container Corp. of America. John Bottlinger, yardmaster, estimated the loss of the seven cars and their cargo at $25,000.

No estimate of the value of the war-built warehouse, used by Pencoyd as a wrecking shed during the war, was available.

5500 Youngsters Hurry (Sez Who?) Back to School

Summertime is officially over for more than 5500 Lower Merion Township and Narberth Borough youngsters who trooped back to their respective high schools and grade schools this week.

Although official enrollment figures were not completed at press time, registrations were approximately as follows:

Senior high school, 1512; Ardmore junior high school, 603; Bala-Cynwyd junior high school, 586; Ardmore Ave. grade school, 270; Ashland Ave. school, 215; Bala school, 185; Cynwyd, 520; Merion, 398; Merion Square school in Gladwyne, 205; Wynnewood Rd. school, 386; Penn Wynne, 400, and Bryn Mawr, 293.

Enrollment at Narberth was approximately 415.

Ardmore Athlete, 2nd Polio Victim

Guard at Brookline Pool Stricken; Condition Reported Serious

James Fleck, of 124 Walnut Ave., Ardmore, who served during the summer as a lifeguard at the Brookline Pool, was admitted to the Bryn Mawr Hospital this week with what Lower Merion Township health officials described as a "severe case" of infantile paralysis.

Fleck is the second polio victim reported in Lower Merion Township for the summer. In Haverford Township there have been 11 cases of infantile paralysis since June.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Fleck, the boy was a star tackle on the 1945 football team at Lower Merion High School. His condition was reported still serious today.

BORO-ITES TO ATTEND STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Two Narberth students are among 1600 who will enter West Chester State Teachers College as freshmen this fall.

They are Betty Jane Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Jennings, of 221 Lantwyn Lane, and David W. Paxson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Paxson, of 4 Chestnut Ave.

Miss Jennings is a graduate of Springfield High School, Paxson graduated from Lower Merion High. Both are registered for courses in the Physical Education curriculum.

Where, Oh, Where Shall They Go?

Borough Expects 150 At Dinner, Sept. 25; No Hall Big Enough

Narberth Borough, scheduled to be host to the Montgomery County Boroughs Association at a dinner-meeting on September 25, has no place in the Borough to do its entertaining.

The only hall large enough to house the expected 150 guests is Elm Hall. But, in addition to the fact that the hall has no facilities for catering, the State fire laws prohibit gatherings of more than 50 persons in the structure.

Attempts were being made this week to arrange for the use of the Overbrook Golf Club, with women's organizations in the Borough aiding to serve dinner.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Henry A. Fry, borough solicitor, whose topic is "Recent Borough Legislation."

SEPTEMBER'S BAD LUCK FOR 7-YEAR-OLD JUDY

Judith Ann Mueller, 7, of 47 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, was convinced this week that Septembers are hexed.

Last year, on September 28, Judith was struck by a car near her home, and suffered a fracture of the left leg.

This Monday, while riding on the handlebar of a bicycle near the home of friends in Wynnewood, Judith fell and fractured her left elbow. She was treated at the Bryn Mawr Hospital, where she remained for 24 hours before returning to the home of her parent, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mueller. Her father is a member of the Lower Merion police force.

John R. Parsons, Newspaperman, Dies in Ardmore

Correspondent Who Covered Bryan and 'Teddy' Roosevelt Lived Here 40 Years

John Reeder Parson, former newspaper editor and one of this country's first foreign correspondents, died Thursday at his home, 204 Kent Rd., Ardmore. He was 73.

Mr. Parsons was born in St. Mary's County, the oldest county in Maryland, and former capital of that state, where both sides of his family had been early settlers. He was educated at Charlotte Hall, a military academy, and at Georgetown University.

While still a young man he went to Chicago to cover William Jennings Bryan's nomination, and his story on the famed "Cross of Gold" speech won him a job on a Chicago newspaper.

He served in the Spanish-American war, and then spent two years in the Philippines as a correspondent for the Washington Star, covering the Aguinaldo insurrection. When he returned he went to work for the Baltimore Herald, for whom he became Washington correspondent. He covered Washington for the Herald throughout the administration of "Teddy" Roosevelt and during the early part of the Taft administration.

Transferring first to the New York World and later to the Philadelphia North American, he later became Harrisburg correspondent for the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. He remained there as political editor until 1915, when he left the newspaper world to take a position with the American Surety Company. His forte was interviewing political personalities, and he was a close friend of the late Sen. (Continued on Page Three)

'No Dead Dogs' 40 Protest at Boro Hearing

Protesting the wording of ordinance to rezone the Iona Ave. district of Narberth, 40 residents appeared at a public hearing on September 3, in Narberth Borough Hall.

The proposal was to re-zone the east side of Iona Ave., from Woodbine to Montgomery Aves., from R-4 residential to C-commercial. The petition for re-zoning was introduced by John Paolini, owner of a lot, who wants to sell his property to Dr. W. Herbert Hoedt, a veterinarian.

Residents complained that the C-commercial zoning ordinance permitted "animal hospitals, mortuaries and cemeteries," and protested that they did not want to have dogs and cats buried virtually in their backyards.

A spokesman for Paolini said that Dr. Hoedt does not now maintain a hospital, and, according to the five-year contract he signed with Paolini, would not have one on the new property. Walter A. Fox suggested that the words "animal hospital, mortuary and cemetery" be deleted from the ordinance, and the residents said they would be in favor of the proposed change if this were done.

Sterling M. Chain, chairman of the Borough Council building committee, said that two more hearings would have to be held; the first to eliminate the objectionable wording, and the second to accept the proposed zoning change. The dates of these meetings, he declared, will be announced.

HIGHWAY COM. SPENDS $1478

Expenditures made, during August by the Highway Committee of Borough Council amounted to $1478.57.

Work included: Ash and trash collections, street cleaning and maintenance, cleaning inlets, work on baseball diamond, building seats for playground, and miscellaneous work.

Charge Laxity In Breaking Up Corner Gangs

Iona and Woodbine Ave. Resident Call Police Protection Inadequate

Residents of Iona and Woodbine Aves., Narberth, charged Monday night that police protection in the area was inadequate and negligent.

The charges were brought before Borough Council by a group of eight residents of the area, who complained that police failed to break up gangs of men and boys who hung around street corners disturbing the neighborhood late at night.

"Calls to both the Ardmore and Narberth police stations have brought us no satisfaction," the spokesman for the group stated. "We are appealing to you gentlemen to help us fight this menace to our neighborhood."

"When the police do answer our calls," he stated, "they arrive at the corner, merely speak to the crowd and then disappear. We would like to know why the Borough ant. noise and disturbing the peace ordinances are not being enforced."

Another resident stated: "Most of us are ex-G.I.s who have just moved in the area. We've done our part to make the neighborhood better place to live, but we aren't getting much cooperation from the police."

Still another said, "The crowd at the corners are so thick you can't get through, you have to wait around them."

The gangs, the complainants said, gather every night in an area which includes a sandwich shop and a taproom. The noise continues until early hours, they said.

Complaints were also heard against an automobile who, the residents stated, raced his car up and down the street with a cut-out attachment on the muffler open.

Reports by the residents to both the State and local police brought no action, they said, although the authorities were given the license number of the automobile.

Several of the residents who appeared Monday night brought similar complaints to Council in March and April of this year.

At that time, more careful patrolling of the area was promised by Council.

"These complaints are not being directed in the right direction," Richard L. Miller, Narberth Burgess, stated. "They should have come directly here instead of to the police stations. If they are brought here, the responsibility is placed directly on Borough officials and not on individual officers."

Walter A. Fox, Council president said, "Since March, several measures have been taken with the younger boys of the neighborhood in an attempt to clear up a serious condition, but obviously nothing concrete has been accomplished. Drastic steps will have to be taken in order to correct conditions in the area."

According to the monthly police report, read later at the Council meeting by Franklin C. Hutchins, chairman of the Public Safety Committee of Council, only six complaints were received from Iona and Woodbine Aves. during August.

Of these, two were of boys causing a disturbance, one was of boys shooting off firecrackers, one was of boys turning on a fireplug, and one was of a fight.

Each report stated either that the boys were chased, or that there was no one at the scene of the complaint.

Fox turned the matter over to the Burgess and the Public Safety committee for further action.

CYNWYD MAN AWARDED ARC WELDER PATENT

Edwin M. Callender, of 5 Lodges Lane, Cynwyd, was awarded a patent on an electronic arc welder, it was announced this week by the U. S. Patent Office.

Callender was credited with eight claims of originality in his invention.

We Apologize

Our Town regrets that it misquoted Mrs. Ruth Grace, borough secretary, in an article last week concerning broadened powers of municipalities.

The article erroneously credited Mrs. Grace with a statement that she did not think Borough Council would consider a real estate tax increase in the near future.

Council has been given the power to appeal to the courts for permission to increase the real estate tax up to five mills beyond the present 15-mill ceiling. However, no action has been taken as yet.

Township Incinerator Burns 130 Tons of Refuse a Week

This is the saga of the Lower Merion Township incinerator, whose fiery coffers consume 130 tons of salvaged refuse a week.

The $105,000 disposal unit, designed by Albright and Friel, Consulting Engineers, was constructed in 1939 with P.W.A. federal assistance.

Of brick and concrete construction, the three-story building with its 129-foot stack, is located in Penn Valley on a 30½-acre tract of rolling countryside set with shade trees and a carpeting of grass.

Some 40 township and private trucks wend their way daily from Woodbine Ave. to the incinerator's charging floor, where they are weighed and dumped.

A crew of 12 to 14 outside men working for Richard Lavalla, of Philadelphia, then salvage the salable materials, such as bottles, rags, newspapers, paper bags and metals (about 45 tons weekly), and the remainder is dumped through a large hole into the furnace on the floor below (called the stoking floor).

There, firemen rake the burning rubbish forward from the drying hearth onto the grates, and finally the burned cinders are dropped into a pit below.

State Endorses Health Program

The people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have been presented with a 22-step program of "Better Health and Care." A booklet outlining the program was issued by the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

In the long-range health program, action has begun to improve rural health, school health, hospital facilities, rehabilitation of the physically handicapped and care of disabled veterans, and prepaid medical and hospital care.

Other proposed steps include methods of improving economic conditions, and bettering housing, sanitation, maternal and child health, medical care of the needy, and medical and health education. Fuller control of communicable diseases, malnutrition, venereal diseases, cancer and mental diseases are a part of the long-range plans.

Ten thousand physician members of the Society have subscribed to the 22 steps. A copy of the illustrated booklet will be sent to anyone requesting it from the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa.

STATE COLLEGE CENTER, SWARTHMORE, LISTS REGISTRATION DATES

The Delaware County Day Technical Institute of the Pennsylvania State College, 855 Harvard Ave., Swarthmore, has announced a one year curriculum in industrial electricity, in addition to full-time programs in business administration, mechanical and production tool design.

Registration is scheduled from September 8 through 13, and veterans of World War 2 are eligible for study under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The staff of the Institute is made up primarily of full-time instructors, members of the Extension Faculty of Penn State. Graduate engineers, with years of industrial experience and teaching background, will conduct the work. Students wishing further information or application blanks are asked to visit the center in Swarthmore, or call Swarthmore 3340.

CHOOSING A CAREER:

Beauty Culture as a Profession

By KATHLEEN DAHL

A Rudemar Graduate Now Practicing in a Beauty Salon

Everyone likes the feeling of independence and security. The feeling that they have an important place in the business world. After a careful study of the opportunities offered me I chose beauty culture. It has a great deal to offer anyone entering this field, whether working for someone or going into business for oneself. The field is by no means overcrowded; as a matter of fact beauty culture is still in its infancy.

I especially like the work because of the opportunity it gives you to meet many different people. You meet people who are well educated and those who travel a great deal. The work is different from day to day, thus you don't tire of it quickly. The fact that beauty culture teaches you proper grooming and how to make the most of your best attributes influenced me to follow beauty culture as a career.

One of the important features is that the required time for training is relatively short as compared to other professions. At the completion of your training in a competent school you are qualified to hold a good position.

Salary? Oh, yes; it is excellent.

even for beginners. I am more than pleased that I have chosen beauty culture as a career.

KEYSTONE SCHOOL OPENS 8TH FALL TERM TUESDAY WITH RECORD ENROLLMENT

The Keystone Secretarial and Business Administration School, at Swarthmore, opened its 8th fall term last Tuesday, with the largest enrollment in its history.

Over half the student body are veterans, attending under the G. I. Bill of Rights. More than 65 percent of the students are taking courses in business administration, accounting, salesmanship, advertising and economics.

More rooms have been opened and improvements have been made in the present school building to accommodate the increased enrollment. A new office training department will soon be completed and fully equipped with modern desks, filing cabinets and office machines. Outdoor activities on the school campus will include softball, croquet and miniature golf.

Eleanor McClay Married Friday To J. E. Wray

Couple Will Take 15-Month Trailer Tour of Midwest

Miss Eleanor McClay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Houston McClay, of 215 Essex Ave., Narberth, became the bride of John Edward Wray, son of Mr. Edward Wray, of Evanston, Ill., on Friday evening, September 5, in a quiet home ceremony. Dr. Gordon H. Clark and Rev. John Patton Galbraith, cousin of the bride, officiated. The bride wore a white Chinese silk gown fashioned with a yoke of family lace, a waistband embroidered in silver and a full skirt ending in a train. Her fingertip length veil was held by a coronet of white roses and stephanotis, and she carried a spray bouquet of the same flowers. Mrs. Klaudius Kuiper, of Wynnewood, served as matron of honor and only attendant for her sister, and wore an aqua taffeta model featuring a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and a fishtail back. She carried a bouquet of mixed, f. il flowers in shades of yellow and orange. A reception for 40 guests followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a ten-day wedding trip to Canada. Upon their return the newlyweds will live for 15 months in a trailer, traveling through Eastern and Midwestern States. After that they will make their home in Chicago.

Narberth Juniors Open Fall Season With a Musical

A musical featuring Sammy Price and the Narberthaires will open the fall season for the Narberth Junior Women's Community Club in the club house next Thursday evening. The Narberthaires, directed by Titus Strawhecker, will present an hour program of Stephen Foster songs. Later, Sammy Price, director of the Jazz Festival Society of Philadelphia, will perform. Tuesday evening, executive board members and committee chairmen met at the home of the president, Mrs. Larry Grey, of Woodbine Ave., Penn Valley, to plan programs for the coming year. Besides the president, the club

Incinerator

Manayunk, and Winfield Attley, of Haverford.

"We don't have much excitement around here," Sayre said this week, "but we certainly do have a lot of junk. You'd be surprised at what people throw away; everything from paper clips to automobiles."

"A couple of weeks ago someone even threw away a can full of gasoline. When it was dumped the cap fell off and the gas flowed out around the hole into the furnace and ignited. Luckily the men were able to extinguish the flames before they spread to the rubbish."

Quite a few persons come to see the incinerator, Sayre said, including Sunday School classes and irregular school groups. The disposal unit is also included in a tour of inspection made annually by township commissioners.

A comedy note is sometimes furnished by the salvage crew, Sayre recalled, when the men don gaudy costumes discarded by township residents, and hold fashion parades.

The men are allowed to keep any unclaimed jewelry and money they find, Sayre said, as well as such items as fountain pens, umbrellas and radios. He said money was always turning up, never in obvious places as purses, but tucked away into boxes or pieces of furniture.

One time a few years back, one of the men found a one-pound tin of bacco can filled with dimes. This was never claimed, but during the war years several War Bonds were returned to their surprised owners.

Sayre himself uses a thermometer-barometer and an electric fan, both of which he rescued from the rubbish heap in perfect condition.

When a reporter visited the incinerator, the following items were prominent in an unsalvaged trash heap: a coffee pot, picture album, small hot water heater, a cake tin, a child's scooter, an express wagon, a mattress, wastebasket, suitcase, tires, stockings, bed springs, lamps, a badminton racket, and a variety of other things.

Mattis Names 8 L. M. Veterans For Grid Opener

Of the 11 Lower Merion High football players who will face Northeast High in the inaugural game on Friday night, Sept. 19, eight won letters last year, according to Coach Dick Mattis.

Mattis, already set upon a starting lineup following a brisk workout with Episcopal Academy Tuesday, named Bill Buck and Bill Ryder at end, with Jim Barr and Bill Moran at tackle. Mike Venezia and Don Shaver, who will handle all the extra points and kickoffs, will be at guard, with Bob Callahan, center.

Tom Davis, only newcomer to the Ardmore Aces' backfield, will be at quarter. Capt. Len Shepherd, the All-Scholastic ace, and Harry Barton will draw the halfback assignments. Graham Hopper will be at fullback.

Of the starting team, only Callahan, Moran and Davis failed to win letters last year. However, Mattis also indicated that Dick Oliver, sub for Barton; Charlie Venezia, Shepherd's replacement; Quarterback Bill Galluie, from Ardmore Junior High; Tackle Joe Imes and Al Lannan, guard, will see plenty of action.

Barr, Venezia, Callahan and Shepherd appeared to particular advantage against Episcopal Academy and L. M. appeared to have a bit the better of the scrimmage.

All indications point to a sellout crowd for Lower Merion's first night game in history, and temporary stands are being erected in the end zone. It will be the first time the Aces have met Northeast, city champion last year.

Unworthy motives win neither results nor rewards.

West Chester Eliminates Manoa From M. L. Playoffs; Plays Wayne Saturday

By HARRY ELLSWORTH

West Chester—not given a Chinaman's chance to even last out the first round of the Main Line League playoffs—earned the right to meet Wayne in the semifinal, by upsetting highly-favored Manoa, 5-3, on Sunday.

Thus the lightly-regarded Chester County nine, playing its first year in the Main Line circuit, will open the best two-out-of-three playoff with the Italian-Americans at West Chester on Saturday afternoon.

The second contest will be played on the Radnor High grounds in Wayne on Sunday.

Drexel Hill, easy winner over Berwyn, will play the winner of the Wayne-West Chester series for the 1947 league title. After dropping a 12-4 decision to the red-hot Manoa last week, West Chester rallied to win, 7-3, and extend the series into a third game.

Manoa mentor Frank Matthews started his usually dependable veteran, Ollie Harpster, but West Chester, playing smart, heads-up baseball, landed on the chubby right-hander for all five of its runs in the second and third innings.

Manoa got a run in the first and it looked like the home towners were out to prove that West Chester's win was all a big mistake. Jack Miller worked fidgety Walt Forward, West Chester hurler for a while, took second on George Myers' sacrifice and scored on a single by Walt Kaminski.

Retired in order in the first inning, West Chester hustled loose with what proved to be enough runs to win in the second frame. With one out, Fred Osborne pushed the first of his three hits into left, and John White reached first on a hit and went to second as Armstrong tried to get Osborne at third.

Earl Spellman, scoring runner with a single, with all runners moved up on a belated throw to the plate. Here came the turning point in the ball game. Nick Giunta laid down a beautiful grounder to left. White crossing the plate. Third-sacker Kaminski, however, heaved wildly past first base as Spellman scored and Giunta went to second.

Giunta scored a moment later when Pitcher Harpster threw Chet Zercher's hit into left field for a two-base error. Osborne and White put two doubles back-to-back in the third for the fifth West Chester run.

Meanwhile, Walt Forward, an aging blonde veteran from the Pacific Coast League, was tossed to three hits in the first seven innings. Pacing and stomping around the mound as well as moaning to plate umpire Paugh, Forward, who had used a good fast ball and a curve to fool the Matthews.

In the ninth inning, Manoa just about hung Forward out from the Pacific Coast League, but West Chester hurler showed his courage by pitching out of danger. Kaminski got on when Osborne hobbled his grounder. Gil Gekoski sent Kaminski to third.

With a single and Jack Corr scored the Manoa third baseman with a single into left. Bob Poletti fanned, but Walt Armstrong blasted a single past shortstop to score Gekoski. With the tying runs on a first and second, Forward forced Nick DeFranks, who had relieved Ollie Harpster in the third, to ground out to second and made Miller dribble weakly to the mound for the final out.

White and Osborne each garnered three hits to lead West Chester's 10-hit attack. One of the larger elements of the year witnessed the contest on Veterans Field.

Wayne, by virtue of its fine showing against Narberth, will be favored to stop West Chester next weekend. The Italian-Americans will toss their hurling twosome, Harry Desert and Johnny Byrne, against West Chester. This duo held Narberth to two runs in two games and are rated two of the best pitchers in the league.

West Chester will probably use Johnny White and either Forward or Charlie Spellman on the mound in this weekend's contests.

During the regular season, Wayne defeated its Western Division buddies three times in three starts, although all games were fairly close.

Joe Fulk Signs With Warriors

Joe Fulk, he of the unerring aim and the lazy lops, again will be tossing those sensational goals for the Philadelphia Warriors when they start their defense of their title in the Basketball Association of America a few months hence.

Peter A. Tyrrell, president and general manager of The Arena, were a happy smile as he announced the arrival of Fulk's signed contract. The terms were not disclosed, but it is understood the pact called for a sizeable boost in salary, making the 6-foot-5, high-scoring forward one of the higher paid players in the game.

Fulk finished with 70 goals, 161 points last year, exactly 207 more than ever recorded by an individual in organized pro ball. He wound up his six-year play with 549 field goals and 513 foul conversions for an amazing average of 23 points a game.

HAVERFORD YOUTH WINS RIFLE MEDAL
Clark McAdams Driemeyer, 15 of Haverford, won the expert rifle medal, it was announced yesterday by the National Rifle Association.

Driemeyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fred Driemeyer and is a junior at the Haverford School.

Cub Pack 33 Beats Stars in Overtime, 4-3

In one of the most exciting base games ever seen at Penn Wynne, Cub Pack 33 defeated the Main Line Cub-Scout All-Stars, 4-3, Saturday in an extra-inning game.

Yarrow, c, of the two-hit league, was the hero of the game. He caught most of the time, but also filled in at shortstop and second base when needed. One of Manoa's better defensive players, he led the team in batting with an average of .408, which placed him second in the entire league.

Manoa finished first in the Eastern Division, but it was no fault of Gekoski's that his team was eliminated by West Chester in the preliminary playoffs.

Only player to challenge Gekoski for the most valuable player trophy was Ardmore's versatile Frank Schwanda, who won the trophy two years ago, and who was the only player other than Gekoski to poll more than one vote this year.

Harry Desert, former Haverford High athlete who had a 9-3 record as Wayne pitcher during the regular season, was voted the most improved player, and young Albie Becker, who pitched and played the outfield for Narberth, was named the Rookie of the Year.

Drexel Hill, which already has qualified for the championship series, completely dominated the All-Star team, winning seven spots in the first team. Infielders Jack Williams, Bernie Rosenfeld and Larry Algedinger; Outfielder Norm Selby; and Pitchers Gene Conway and Jack Creany and Manager Joe Trankowski, of Philadelphia, were the winners.

Gekoski and Walt Kaminski, of Manoa, and Pete Caniglia, Berwyn, and Al Shuckman, Narberth, also made the team.

Manoa's Gil Gekoski Named 'Most Valuable' in M. L. Loop

Gil Gekoski, hard-hitting member of the Manoa A. A. nine, has been voted the most valuable player in the Main Line Baseball League, according to Secretary Charles E. Hamden.

Gekoski, a former Army captain who was an outstanding athlete at both West Philadelphia High and West Chester State Teachers College, was the handymen of the team in batting with an average of .408, which placed him second in the entire league.

Manoa finished first in the Eastern Division, but it was no fault of Gekoski's that his team was eliminated by West Chester in the preliminary playoffs.

Gekoski and Walt Kaminski, of Manoa, and Pete Caniglia, Berwyn, and Al Shuckman, Narberth, also made the team.

St. Thomas Out Of Loop Playoffs

Defeated in its last game by St. Margaret's, of Narberth, 4-1, the St. Thomas team dropped to fifth place in the Mont-Del League standings as the top four teams wage a desperate battle for playoff positions. Entering the second week of the regular season, only one team is sure of a playoff berth.

St. Margaret's had a chance to clinch a place in the championship series, but could do no better than split even in two games played last week. The borough club followed that 4-1 victory over St. Thomas by losing a 4-2 verdict to St. Philomena at Lansdowne Wednesday night.

The borough club also has a game yet to play with St. Lucy's of West Manayunk, but whether or not either of these games will be played depends upon the outcome of the games which St. Philomena has to play.

Schmid Stars In Early Drills At Villanova

Several 1946 starters will have a hard time regaining berths on Villanova College's starting eleven this fall, if one may judge by the play in pre-season workouts.

Coach Jordan Oliver admits he'll have his hands full trying to name a starting team to face Kings Point in the inaugural game on Saturday, September 20, at Villanova Stadium. It is a Homecoming Day contest.

One of the pleasing problems will be to select a backfield. A number of reserve ball toters last season have come through with sparkling play in challenge the veterans.

Although Joe Rogers wound up his freshman season as the No. 1 ground game in the East, he's getting plenty of competition for the right halfback berth from Al Schmid, a Trenton, N. J., product. Schmid has recovered from injuries which put him on the sidelines practically all of the 1946 campaign.

Then, too, Bill Zehler, the fleet junior from Rutledge, Pa., has indicated he can handle a starting position. Zehler admits his quarrel with Bob Polidor as one of the fastest backs on the squad.

Selecting a forward wall unit also creates problems. Oliver admits his team will find matters easier "if we could name three guards." Senior Al Barker, Kulpmont, Pa.; Tom Smith, of Philadelphia and diminutive George Pavalko, of New Philadelphia, Pa., all starters last fall, are in the running.

The squad is holding up well under the heavy training grinds. Quarterback Bill Wolf is the only casualty to date. The St. Clair, Pa., passer dislocated his shoulder. End Frank Kane is sidelined with a throat infection which may keep him out of action for a couple of weeks.

RUNCIE TATNALL WINS IN CRICKET CLUB GOLF

ship Tuesday at the St. Martin's course. Tatnall triumphed over Ken Dougherty, 6 and 5. The Haverford College youth was medalist Monday with a 77.

Bud Arnold Lost To Ford Eleven

Charles (Buddy) Arnold, one of three holdovers from the 1946 football season, suffered a leg injury Monday as the Haverford High gridders swung into their second week of pre-season drills.

Arnold, a tallback and probably t Ford's finest ball carrier, suffered a recurrence of an injury which plagued him last season. He won't see any action until next year. Coach Bill Stinson revealed he is scheduled for only light workouts until the injured member responds to treatment.

Meanwhile, three members of last year's junior varsity, Jack Frank, Bill Corbett and Norm Wilde—have been alternating at Arnold's position. Wilde was shifted from end to Tom Jones, a center, in turn was moved to the wing.

The Fords scrimmaged Ridgely Township High on Tuesday and held the Green Raiders about even, although Coach Stinson later avowed that "neither team looked very impressive. Ray Morris, however, showed to advantage in a backfield post.
